Dedication

They have affected our lives with their motto:

ignem mittere in terram

—they have given meaning to our lives with their guidance, knowledge with their teaching, character with their example.

They have eased us over hurdles; urged us on to greater heights . . .

they have prepared us for life; and after four years we are ready to go and set fire on the earth.

And so, we dedicate this book to the Jesuits.

Prologue

Jesuit Training Gives a Meaning to Our Lives...

I would it were possible to start in so few words my errand in the world: quite simply forestalling all inquiry, the oak offers his leaves largehandedly. And in winter his integral magnificent order decrees, says solemnly who he is in the great thrusting limbs that are all finally one: a return, a permanent riverandsea.
So the rose is its own credential, a certain unattainable effortless form: wearing its heart visibly, it gives us heart too: bud, fulness and fall.

After Four Years of Jesuit Teaching: Individual or Face in the Crowd?

It was November: an invisible fire freshened the heart of the grey-blue heron that had drifted and loved contented on mild streams, among summer dwellings and children.

But what aroused it powerfully, what call churned into action its placid domestic wing that it shook earth like a disease, pettiness and location, to set breast against wearying and universal air?

Now while dawn streams upward from fields or early stars send man to fireside still it labors, aeons above him, by day and night striding the sunrise, shadowing the red leaning moon sufficient, remote from the longings of men as they look aloft: it being vowed to greatness and powerfully steered by its lodestone, its perfect heart.

Senior Class History

Reflecting on the four year career of the class of '62 at McQuaid, we must remember that as the fifth graduating class in this young school, we bore the burden of setting a tradition which would make McQuaid great. During freshman orientation week, we continually heard the words, "Think not of what you can get out of McQuaid, but rather, of what you can contribute to it." If participation in extra-curricular activities and success in intellectual pursuits is any indication of a class's contribution, we, the class of '62, must pass Magna Cum Laude.

During our first year, we wasted no time in setting a speedy foot on the athletic field. A pint-sized Dave Larimer and scrappy Joe Pilato stole starting positions from sophomores on the J. V. football team and led the team to a winning season with auspicious omens for the future. The freshman basketball team finished with what you might call a respectable 15-3 record. Meanwhile, the varsity wrestling team received a shot in the arm through the winning efforts of a ninety-five pound Dick Hanford.

Intellectually, we suffered through the long hours of laudo, laudas, laudat, which merely laid the foundation for three more years of Caesar, Cicero, and Virgil. The debating team received an unprecedented turnout of twenty members who were destined by the fates (Aeneas wasn't the only one) to capture trophies from Jamestown to New York City.

Freshman year quickly faded, and with it went Father Foley, S. J., and library science. A good percentage of us returned as sophomores anxious to see the tiny freshmen, not so anxious to meet Julius Caesar, but most of all, prepared to continue where we left off the previous June.

During that sophomore year, we saw Tony Zollo, who hadn't even played J. V. football, earn a starting berth on the varsity as first string fullback. Frank Zona and Jerry Rohrer followed Zollo's precedent by being the first two sophomores to play varsity basketball. Mike Valerio and Henry Cashette joined Hanford on the mats to form an unbeatable combination.

Another sophomore, Dick Staub, was named associate editor of the Lance. The dramatics society staged Agatha Christie's Ten Little Indians, and Al Wagner and Tom Cannon received medals for their professional performances in the spring production of Julius Caesar.

We managed to struggle through the Gallic Wars, isosceles triangles, and the history of our world; and before we knew it, sophomore year was gone, merely a stepping stone for greater things to come.

Junior year saw Dave McEneaney enact a stellar performance in the fall production of Twelve Angry Men. Jim Wawro stole the show as Daniel Webster in the spring production of The Devil and Daniel Webster. The varsity debate team, led by John Valby and Jerry West, held their own against some of the best debaters in the east, but proved later that this was only a rebuilding year.

Meanwhile, Bob Pizzi and Phil Lombard faithfully kept their eyes on the seismograph and recorded everything from earthquakes to nuclear explosions.

In sports, junior year proved to be eventful for McQuaid and for the class of 1962. Bill Soehner and Al Maher provided a sturdy forward wall and Mike DiGregorio skirted the ends for the varsity football team. The foursome of Jim Fleming, Dave Baldwin, Dave Zimmer, and Tom Harvey played a speedy role as the cross-country team won the Brighton, Alfred-Almond, and Diocesan tournaments. Then on that memorable March Fourth, Tony Criscuolo bagged eighteen points as the Knights won a rousing victory over our rival Aquinas. In the spring, trackmen Mike Newcomb and George Dietz proved indispensable on the half-mile relay team and Al Smith set a new school record in the high jump.

On the political front, McQuaid saw one of the most colorful elections since the poster club went into business. The Junior Prom provided the setting for the announcement of the future Student Council officers. Joe Mancini emerged as president, Dave Larimer, vice-president, and Tony Zollo as secretary.

The three-quarter mark was reached and senior year has provided the climax for a memorable four years. Perhaps for some the most worthwhile event of our lives was the senior closed retreat in Syracuse. After we returned from this week of solitude, our eventful lives continued at the same pace started back in 1958.

The Student Honor Court was reinvigorated under the direction of John Henry and Frank Staropoli. We provided McQuaid with three National Merit finalists in the persons of Tom Sear, Wendell Bowerman, and Brian Callahan. The Debaters continued to bring in the laurels, and the Thespians staged a most entertaining production of Stalag 17. Don McNamara has shown his organization and imaginative abilities in the production of this year's Accolade, one which will never be forgotten.

The class of '62 reached the height of its athletic endeavors when a muscular lad, Ted Fink, crashed through opposing linemen, won all-scholastic honors, and led the varsity football team to its first winning season since freshman year. Naturally, Zona and Criscuolo paced the basketball team to one of its best seasons ever.

These events will be what we remember of our years at McQuaid. But the real purpose for all the preparation we have made, lies beyond unknown horizons. Our challenge now is to face these new horizons one by one, apply the excellent preparation of a Jesuit education, and handle them with the same dexterity we have shown in the past.

A Time of Improvement Ahead, and Then a Transformation

My poor trees lean on sticks and complain no matter what the autumn do to ease them.
Can you, seeing them creak their way over field dream young eagles starting from the orchard grass?

Spring will bear me out. Let them go under, crotchety profiles of wire, faces the storms hone finely—they plod and plod their hill, never quite make a shelter, never are flattened.

Give them five months of grace and see what shapes strike your hillside with furious beauty: young eagles hardly aground, bounding, owning the earth: all but crying, all but taking the whole air with their vigorous mastering wings!

Improving Ourselves and Living Daily Through Christ...

EACH DAY WRITES

in my heart's core ineradicably, what it is to be man.

Hours and hours, no sun rises, night sits kenneled in me: or witless and lovely as spring a total flowering takes me in an hour and I tread my own heart amazed: what land, what skies are these, whose shifting weathers
now shrink my harvest to a stack of bones;
now weigh my life with glory?

Christ, to whose eyes flew,
whose human heart knew, or furious or slow, the dark wingbeat of time: your presence give light to my eyeless mind, reason to my heart's rhyme.

—EACH DAY WRITES

Did you ever ask yourself, "Why do I exist?" This could be an alarming question unless you knew the proper answer: to know, love, and serve God. You may still fear life in this world unless you come to realize the revealing truth behind these words. Sodalists have asked themselves this question sometime in their lives. That is exactly why they became Sodalists—Soldiers of Mary—because they seek the all-important answer.

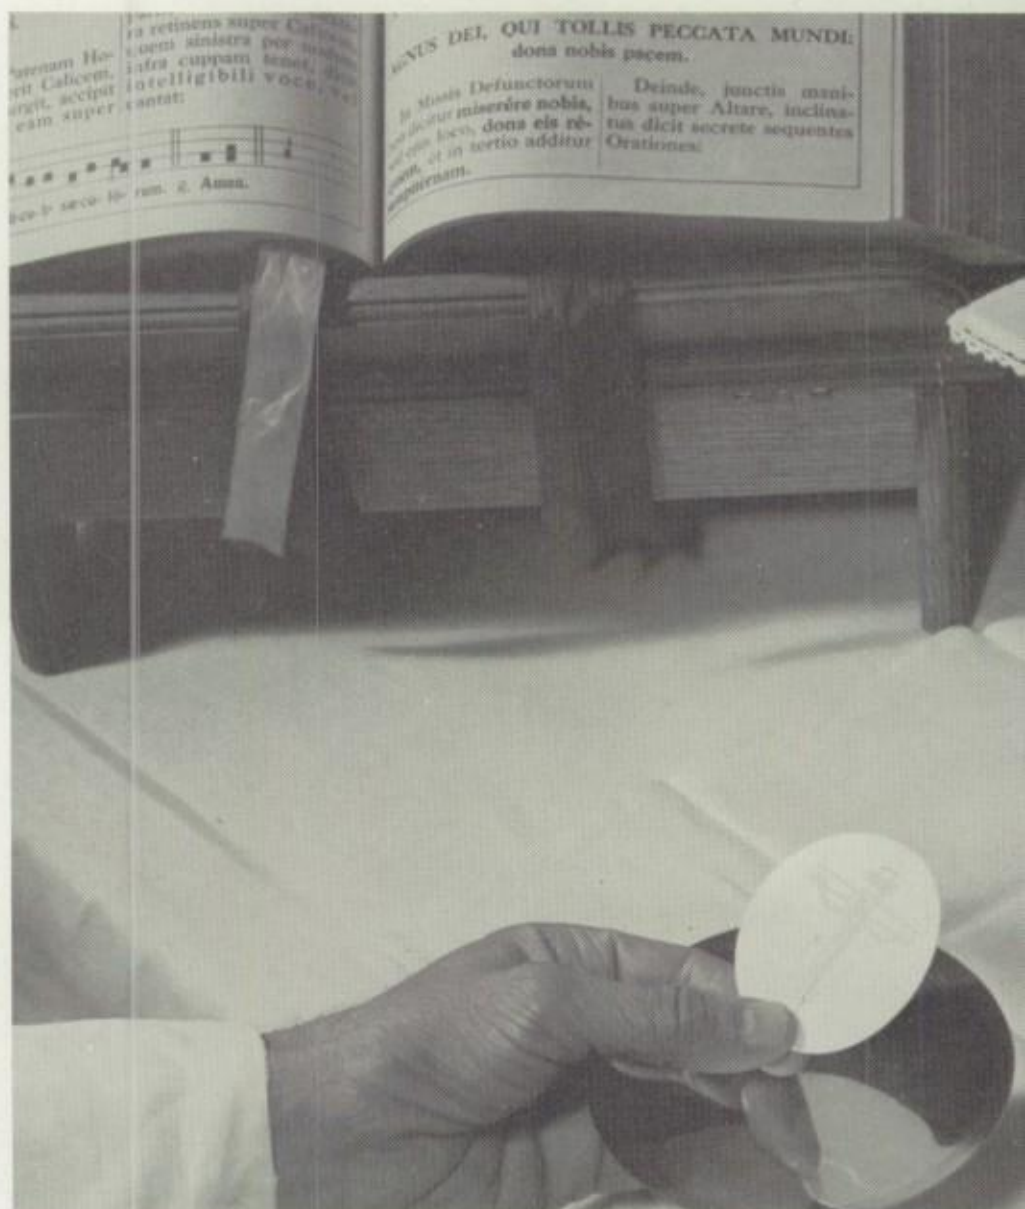

To put this answer into practice is another reason for the Sodality. Even among those who already grasp an idea of this final purpose of life, many believe that its practice is an entirely personal matter. However, if you stop and contemplate the mystery of the Mystical Body, it may reveal how dependent upon the other members of this union in Christ you really are. It is this same dependence that creates the need for the unity of a Sodality.

Sodalists form such a union for strength—strength to know, love, and serve God. The mere knowledge that someone else is striving for the same goal gives the Sodalist strength to persevere in his efforts. As a group, under the guidance of an experienced moderator, Sodalists form the habits necessary for spiritual progress.

A final purpose for the Sodality is to produce strong Catholic leadership. The most distinguishing facet in a Sodality is its formation of an energetic core of active leaders who enkindle the zeal of Christian charity in all their dealings with their fellow men.

Therefore you can see that the objects of the Sodality are to find the goal of one's existence, to act on this knowledge, to use the strength of group aspirations as a means to this end, and to produce strong Catholic leaders in the world.

To these ends, the Sodality this term has, in all four years, discussed how the individual, as a Sodalist, can lead his social, academic, and domestic worlds to Mary and to God. The Sodality, acting on its discussions, has constantly led McQuaid scholastically and has done various works of charity—AD JESUM PER MARIAM!

Student Council

This year the Student Council set its sights upon a three-fold goal: that of strengthening school spirit, providing a workable liaison between the students and the administration, and, in general, helping the students of McQuaid Jesuit High School.

The utmost emphasis however was placed on action. The Student Council sponsored three money-making projects which grossed over $550 for the treasury. The Student Council Dance, one of these projects, was called "the best ever" by many who attended.

The Council used this money for many other projects. It purchased a $70 ad in the yearbook, financed the construction of the student-built football scoreboard, donated a plaque thanking all concerned for the new Senior lounge, and furnished the new Student Council office with a filing cabinet, typewriter and typing table.

Monetary projects were not the only concern of the Student Council. It gave numerous spiritual bouquets to the faculty and their relatives and set plans in motion for the donation of a student-financed typewriter to an injured McQuaid "knight."

The success of the Council this year seems to indicate that it was working under the guidance of these words of Sophocles, "Heaven ne'er helps the man who will not act."

U. N. Club

The McQuaid Committee for the United Nations is one of the school's youngest clubs. This one year old organization is part of the Rochester Junior Chamber of Commerce. The club's overall aim is to emphasize an awareness of the UN on the student body. During the past year, it has accomplished this by monthly meetings at the Chamber of Commerce in which different problems or aspects of the UN were discussed. There was also a trip to the UN in New York City for two members of the club, Aldo Giusiana, and David Ripton.

Kneeling: David Ripton, James Brook. Standing: Thomas Nugent, Aldo Giusiana, Mr. Voelkle, S.J., Patrick Lancer, James Trybalski.

Booster Club

If the teams are going to win, the school must show its support. It is an accepted fact that all Jesuit Schools are built and equipped with the intangible element of spirit, and McQuaid is no exception.

This year Dave Scuteri is head man, Jerry Simmons second in line, Jerry Utarro secretary, and Mr. McCarty, S.J. moderator.

It can truly be said that this year was a success, not necessarily because of the officers, but because of that inborn element that comes with all Jesuit Schools—spirit. All the students needed was a chance to let loose, and the turf at 1800 Clinton Avenue South “shook.” Statistics have proven that the attendance at this year’s football games outclassed any other year, and the password at the basketball games was “organization.” When all accounts are tallied up, it can be said that the success of this club must be attributed to a tradition that is Jesuit, and a tradition that is McQuaid—spirit.

Science Club

This year the Science Club, under the direction of its new moderator, Mr. David White, S.J., launched a new plan for the operation of the McQuaid Seismic Observatory. Unlike previous years when only one student-director was given sole responsibility for operations, maintenance and evaluations of the station and its acquired data, a group of students consisting of Dave Bachofer, Jim Tarkington, and Bob Pizzi shared the responsibility and successfully performed all the necessary functions.

The observatory has recorded most of the large quakes this past year, including those in Santa Domingo and Chile. Work has also been directed at correlating seismic activity with meteorological activity, such as hurricanes and local storm conditions.

Moderate progress has been made in the Radio Astronomy project. A small regenerative detector-cavity operating at about 1400 Mc/sec. has been constructed and solar activity has been received.

Future plans of the Science Club include a pen and ink recorder system for the seismic vault to replace the present photographic system. More sensitive and higher gain radio equipment for the radio telescope will be constructed. Plans are also being drawn up for an experimenting bench which will house the necessary power supplies and the testing and measuring equipment for the electronic experimenter soon to be in operation.

All in all it has been a busy year for the Science Club. With the growing interest of the students, under the guiding hand of its faculty moderator, it will continue and even better the fine reputation it has gained over the past years.

Debating

To produce an effective speaker who can ably defend his position in any discussion has always been the guiding purpose of the McQuaid Debating Society. This year the club, moderated by Father Paul Dugan, S.J., has admirably attained that goal. Throughout the state and even out of the state, McQuaid debaters, with proof in hand, have successfully upheld their stand on the national topic: Resolved: That the Federal Government should equalize educational opportunity by means of grants to the states for public elementary and secondary education. Enjoying as much success as the debating society, the Oratorical Club of McQuaid, moderated by Mr. Frankhauser, S.J., has to a great extent succeeded in its efforts to develop polished, skillful debaters. Whether given thirty minutes or three weeks preparation, whether delivering an original speech or one of the past, the McQuaid orators have proved an ample complement to the McQuaid Debaters.

In six tournaments, the Hamilton Debate Tournament, the Jeffersonville State Tournament, the Canisius Tournament, the Rochester Institute of Technology Tournament, the Jamestown Tournament, and the Pittsford Tournament, the McQuaid debaters have placed first three times, second four times, and third three times in debating, in the experienced and the semi-experienced divisions. They have also earned one best and four second best speakers trophies while the McQuaid orators have taken two firsts in dramatic interpretation and a second in both original and extemporaneous speaking. Perhaps the best showing of McQuaid was at the International Speech Festival of Saint Michael's College, Toronto, where a first in debating, a second in extemporaneous speaking, and a third in original oratory earned for McQuaid the over-all trophy.

This has been an excellent year for McQuaid debaters and orators. All the hard work, past experiences, and constant exhortations of member and moderator alike have culminated in a winning tradition which the Debating Society and the Oratorical Club hope to continue throughout the years to come.

STAGE CREW, Mr. David White, S.J., John Seebach, Tom Kipp, Joe Hallett, Alan Costich, Dave Bishop.

The Dramatics Club production this year — Stalag 17—was one of the finest successes yet produced on stage at McQuaid. The play itself was based on actual life in a German concentration camp in World War II, a drama which promised all the elements of a smash hit — farce, humor, melodrama, and depth. The capable direction of Mr. Edward Zogby, S.J., the assistance of Mr. Leo Gafney, S.J., and the star acting of Jeff Powell, Dave McEneany, Ron Pirrera, and Karl Dash made it just that.

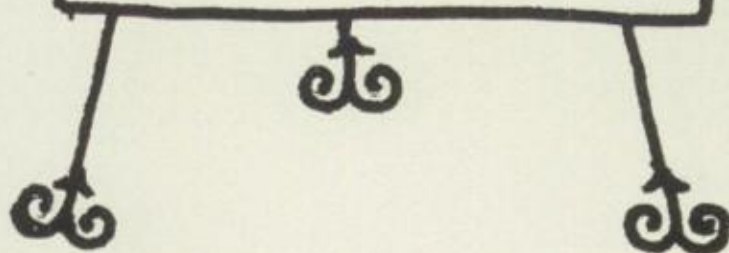

The cast played to a full house, and the audience roared its approval. The villains George Dietz and Jeff Powell were practically hissed at towards the end of Act II, and the audience broke into spontaneous applause at the antics of Ron Pirrera. Dave McEneany heightened the drama in his role of the clever hero, and Greg Maher brought roars of laughter from his plight in the bathtub.

The stage crew, under the direction of Mr. David White, S.J., undoubtedly added to the overall success of the production. Their hard, imaginative work created a colorful set and bold new lighting for the McQuaid auditorium.

Glee Club

Rebounding from a poor showing last year, the Glee Club once again became a leading activity at McQuaid. Called to practice long before the school year actually began, the Glee Club prepared for its first appearance at the dedication of the new Bishop Kearney High School.

Preparation was immediately started for the Yule program which included the parents' Christmas party, the annual student Mass, and a trip to Mercy.

With completion of the Christmas program, work commenced on the music for the spring concert. Every Monday and Wednesday afternoon 50 booming voices could be heard ringing down the halls, carrying with them the promise of a successful performance.

One outstanding feature of the Glee Club this year was the barbershop quartet, Gene Welch, John Riley, Dave Sleight, and Terry Dwyer.

For the Spring Concert, selections were taken from the Broadway hits of Rogers & Hammerstein and from West Side Story.

The Glee Club was directed by Mr. Zogby, S.J. and Mr. Voelke, S.J. President of this year's Glee Club was Dan Walz.

Throughout the football season the presence of the band was felt by both the players and the fans, offering encouragement and tribute. Snappy half-time performances were displayed at three home games and one away game. Spectators at the Canisius, Notre Dame, and C.B.A. games were pleased with their music. Spirit was also whipped up by the band among those who traveled to Livonia.

Famous Sousa marches were the principle numbers played at these games. Their favorite tune was Sousa's Stars and Stripes Forever.

The band was again conducted by Mr. Achille. His officers were Orlando Caiazza, President, Charles Pinzon, Vice-president and Thomas Sable, Librarian.

McQuaid Gridders Face Syracuse CBA

By BOB WHITE

"We've really been improving," Coach Joe Matarrella said. "But with a club such as we are we're playing tomorrow, plenty of improvement necessary."

That optimistic commentary by McQuaid Coach Joe Matarrella describes his current feeling toward his own football team and to Christian Brothers Academy of Syracuse, tomorrow's opponent at McQuaid.

"We're finally making a headway," added Matarrella, whose team now owns a record after last week's triumph over Livonia. "The defense looked especially good in the Livonia game. We held them inside."

The Livonia line for four hours. Guard Bill Seehorn, tackle Ted Fink and center Tom Furrer were particularly outstanding.

"Seehorn's a real good line. He's 5-11 and weighs 240, but he can really move for his size."

Matarrella also praised fullback Tony Zoile who has been the last core of the McQuaid offense in the first three games.

WHAT ABOUT tomorrow's opposition?

"That's where our worries begin. I saw Christian Brothers play Central Tech of Syracuse last week and CBA had 45 points by the end of the third quarter. That's when I left," Christian Brothers eventually

McQuaid Debaters To Vie with NYC

Debaters from McQuaid Jesuit High School, who last weekend won 15 of 18 matches in the Hamilton College Invitational Debate Tournament, will travel to Jeffersonville Saturday for a match against top New York City high school teams.

The four teams of two boys each who competed against representatives of 23 high schools in the state are:

Thomas Cannon, 17 Courtenay Circle, Pittsford; James Weyers, 2000 West Side Drive, Thomas Sea, 25 Edgemont Road, Brighton; John Valley, 214 Crofton Road, Wendell, New York; and Brian Callahan, 2600 East Ave., Brighton; Joseph Martin, 144 Edgemont Road and Gerald West, 2723 Manning Road, Ogden, N.Y. Paul J. Dugan, S.J., is team moderator.

McQuaid Faces Hamilton Debaters

With debates against Pittsford, Canastota, and Appleton in preparation, McQuaid Jesuit High School's debating team enters its first major competition tomorrow at Utopia, where 20 schools are expected to compete in the annual Hamilton College Invitational.

Representing McQuaid in the two-day event are the affirmative team of Thomas Cannon, James Weyers and Wendell Seehorn; Brian Callahan, and the negative team of John Valley, Thomas Sea and Gerry West-John Weyers.

McQuaid's varsity debaters averaged a 7-1 edge over Pittsford and Canastota, although those two opponents were still behind.

McQuaid Booters Beat Pittsford

A penalty kick with five seconds remaining yesterday gave McQuaid's soccer team a 2-2 victory over Pittsford on the Elmwood Avenue pitch.

McQuaid Knights Seek Victory Over Livonia

The victory spark still awaits fighting as McQuaid Jesuit High's football team prep for its fourth outing of the season, a Saturday afternoon tangle at Livonia.

Journal, 20-7, by two touchdown passes and an interception returned against Bishop Walsh of Ohio last weekend the Knights are still being shaken down in search of a winning combination. Bishop Walsh didn't give much ratings to the whole squad. McQuaid's 2-2 defense, but it didn't say to the offense, and on offense. There are the two defensive departments coach Joe Matarrella is most interested in bolstering.

The week's game will see an captain Ted Fink moving out of the line to test a linebacker's part where his speed can be used to better advantage on offense.

line, this is shake-up week at McQuaid, with players seeking answers hard at almost every position. One of them, and Tom Furrer, figure to be a lot of action at the quarterback outside spot.

The offense continues to practice, dominating the play for most of the first half against Walsh, yet behind by 4-0 at intermission. A pass interference helped the Knights drop to Walsh's territory in the second quarter, and the homeboys presented to drive the length of the field to beat the clock by less than a minute for their first score. By the third quarter, a fourth-down McQuaid pass garble had raised hopes, but was immediately panned for its second score.

Tom McHugh's passing to Al Maher and Mike Ditzgen carried the Knights downfield for

A McQuaid sports event, a debate tournament, an honors listing, news of extracurriculars—all these were a part of the Press Club's activity over the past year.

The greatly increased volume of newspaper clippings on the "Knights Notes" board bore evidence to expanded activity by a small group of sophomores and freshmen in publicizing McQuaid news throughout the Rochester area. Working with Father Cogan, Director of Publicity, and moderator Mr. Bradley, the Press Club maintained a steady flow of releases to both city dailies and, especially this year, to the area's weekly papers.

Weekly meetings provided instruction in newspaper reporting techniques; and spring trips to D'Youville College in Buffalo and to the Gannett News Building in Rochester helped round out the educational side of the club's function.

Other duties included the maintenance of the growing McQuaid scrap book and the posting of current clippings for student information.

Irish Nip McQuaid Harriers

During one of the team's first matches, American Harriers defeated McQuaid Jesuit High and a visiting Fordham Prep team from New York City in a triangular meet at the Hill Stadium.

Meet CBA

Event Quaid

McQuaid, N.Y. will have its annual sports event at the school, with a basketball game, a football game, and a track meet.

McQuaid Faces Jefferson

Having won their first game from previously undefeated East High last Friday, McQuaid Jesuit High's players (3-2) after a repeat victory over Jefferson at the McQuaid court tonight, Friday at 8 p.m.

"When they met Jeff a month ago in Livonia, we were 1-2. We enjoyed a night of fast-breaking and shot-around shooting while making it a 28-24 win. The Jeffs showed enough potential in that game, though. In past ones, then a realer assignment would they come up with a hot shooting night of their own."

The same five that started against East — Tony Crumrine, Frank Zola, John Mearns (all seniors), and junior Joe Gebel and Gerry McCabe — will probably go again this week.

Seated: Randal Herr, James Uebelacker, Mr. Bradley, Thomas Leary. Standing: Mark Weisskopf, James Cavalieri, William McWhorter, Fr. Cogan, S.J., Craig Caswell, Thomas Prinzing.

McQuaid Debaters Sweep State Tourney Honors

The eighteen debating team of McQuaid Jesuit High School walked off with the championship of the State Debating Tournament at Jeffersonville yesterday by winning 1 out of 12 contests.

Twenty-nine high schools from all parts of the state were represented in the tournament and all debated the same question, "Resolved: That Federal Aid Should be Provided for Public Schools."

In addition to the team honors, Thomas Cannon, 17, of 17 Courtenay Circle, Pittsford, was first prize for speaking and Gerald West, 17, of 2723 Manning Road, took second place. Both are seniors at McQuaid. Moderators of the debaters are Rev. the same question, "Resolved: That Federal Aid Should be Provided for Public Schools."

Braun, McQuaid Soph, 15, Bowls 656 Score

Joe Braun, a 15-year-old sophomore from McQuaid, shot a 656 score for three games in the Airport Lanes Junior Bowling League yesterday.

Braun hit games of 355, 313, 180. His average is 174. Joe had three splits and picked all of them, but was guilty of three misses.

The total helped his Messmer Junior team to a good 2715.

Top men's score was a 680 by Frank Davies of the Mon-33-50 win over Jefferson High on the home court.

Jefferson fought hard in the final periods after McQuaid held a 33-24 halftime lead but was unable to overcome the Knights' advantage.

It was the second loss for Jefferson in the season against McQuaid. Earlier the Knights for seven field goals and two free throws to net 16 points high for his team and high for the night. Tony Crumrine dunked 14 and Joe Gebel 13 for the victors.

Three men hit in double figures for the losing Jefferson squad. Bill Radford scored 14 points, eight of them from the free throw line. Bright

Publications

It often seems customary for new companies and growing industries to put their coins in the Madison Avenue slogan box and come up with a pithy-witty slogan guaranteed to inspire and encourage the least employee. If The Lance, The Accolade, or Kennings had tried the same thing, they might have dreamt up some choice phrase like "Growth through Progress!" or "Quality in Quantity and Quantity in Quality!" But no matter what the words, they would have to encompass the ideas of growth and quality, two intangibles that every concern likes to tag on to progress reports. Since the pages of the Accolade are just about the only places for the publications to give such reports, let us see how the words "growth" and "quality" apply to The Lance, Accolade, and Kennings.

Thanks to an intensified ad campaign, The Lance was able to complete its final stage of growth to a tabloid size now used by a majority of newspapers. (If you folded a page of the present Lance in half, you see the size of a page of the very first issue of The Lance.)

The school paper has also introduced "The Undercurrent," an informal column of comments on the manners and mores of McQuaid students. As always, however, the most grueling aspects of producing the paper were the close deadlines and the late evenings spent meeting those deadlines. Was it worth it? Anybody who has ever had an article printed in The Lance knows the pride of having an article published, and he can more fully realize what it meant to produce this year's seven copies of The Lance.

Time was when the only colorful bird around was the NBC peacock, but now the Accolade is sprouting Kodacolor pinfeathers with a color picture of the McQuaid campus on each of the end pages of the Accolade. Another innovation is that seniors will have their names engraved on the new padded covers. It was necessary to add more than twenty pages to the yearbook to cover more comprehensively the many facets of school life. These improvements are all external signs signifying the attempts and hopes of the Accolade staff to produce another award-winning yearbook.

The third publication of Kennings marks a realized dream to have a literary edition become a part of the extracurricular activities at McQuaid as a separate organization. The magazine once again awarded a Markman Prize and saw an increase in the size and quality of its entries heartening encouragement for such a youthful organization.

If stones can dream, after some hundred years shouldering weight, making a wall inch onward heaving it up a hill, braking its roll, being only half above ground, taking the crack of frost, the infernal sun, the insinuating, sleepy moss:—

if stones can still long to stand up naked, a new creation with horizon to see what they do, where the wall goes what shires, forests, it holds—

I suppose the dream might rise, might arc, take color and stance of these birches that fan out suddenly, bursting the wall with powerful feet

so when we come on them, all that remains of the neat arranged stones, is a shambles. Lightning struck here is a first thought, But no: a lovely dream shook from the mud, the interminable years, and lives.

Defense—this was the key to McQuaid's victorious season. The defensive unit, led by big Bill Soehner and Ted Fink, supplied the power punch which helped to make the name of McQuaid renowned in local sports.

Ted Fink, a back last year, was moved to the right tackle position and there proved to be a great asset to both the offense and defense. Bill Soehner, a 250 pound tackle, was the other might on defense. Along with his size, Bill also showed a lighter man's speed in cutting down end runs from his tackle position.

Tom McHugh was another veteran to earn a new job this year. Directing operations from the quarterback slot, Tom displayed the effective combination of deceptiveness and accurate passing. At the receiving end of many a McHugh pass was Al Maher, who also proved his ability to run this year by picking up much valuable yardage. Much credit must be given to Tony Zollo, a three year man, and backbone of the offense. Tony was the Knights' top scorer and led the team in total number of first downs picked up. Rounding out the backfield were Ralph Camardo, who picked up most yards rushing, and Mike DiGregorio who ran a close second to Ralph. Starting positions on the offensive line were held by Henry Cashette, Joe Pilato, and Al Wagner.

The twenty-four Juniors who turned in valuable performances on both offense and defense deserve equal recognition. Among the standouts were Jim Pezzulo, credited with most tackles made, Joe Hallett, Dick Spies, Charlie Maggio, Tom Fuerst, Tom Geen, Dick Burns, and Steve Tisa. There is no doubt that the '62 football season will be equally as successful as 1961's.

Varsity Soccer at McQuaid for 1961 was a story of close games and heartbreaking upsets. Although the opening game was an optimistic 6-0 win against Webster, the Knights were unable to continue their momentum and ended the season with an unimpressive 4- record. Hampered by many injuries and the absence of their coach Mr. George Monagan, the young and inexperienced Knights met the test of the toughest County AA and City teams. Working with a team of seven Seniors, fifteen Juniors, and four Sophomores, Mr. Monagan was able to come up with a tight knit, hard hitting club.

Offensive standouts included Mike Newcomb, who was tied with John Mooney for top scoring honors. Increased offensive punch was added by John Hoffmaster, Dave Griffen, Jim Carey, and John Allen. Defensive strength came from Tom Menihan, Joe Baczko, and Peter Menihan.

Goal tending is perhaps the toughest aspect of Soccer but the talents of Gerry McCabe and Terry Dwyer seemed to prove otherwise. Both boys came up with numerous saves and showed real stability.

McQuaid's varsity basketball team rewrote the record books this season. The team compiled a 17-3 record which bettered the previous record of 16-4. Individual records were established by Tony Criscuolo, who scored 32 points in one game and 381 in the entire season, and by Frank Zona, whose record of over 600 points in a varsity career should stand for some years.

Aside from the co-captains, Zona and Criscuolo, the team received outstanding individual contributions from seniors Rohrer, Mooney, Robinson, Wojick, and Wandtke, all of whom sparked the team when it needed a boost. The juniors also provided great strength to the team, turning in fine performances when they were called on. Judging from the talent and hustle which the juniors showed this year, they should have a good chance for another record-breaking season next year.

This year's edition of varsity basketball will long be remembered, not just for its records, but because of the spirit, determination, and enthusiasm which it displayed at all times. The team and the school realize that the success of this year's McQuaid team is due mainly to the experience and dedicated work of Mr. George Monagan.

The coaching of Mr. Mancarella has guided the McQuaid Jayvees to a very successful season, compiling an impressive 14-3 record.

McQuaid's offensive attack was well spread out with four players hitting over 100 points: Chris Lindsay—150, Buzz Ashenburg—137, Pete Menihan—126, Sam Ianacone—112. Much praise must be given to Tony Binsack, Sam Ianacone, Pete Menihan, and Joe Miller who carried the heavy defensive burden and strongly controlled the boards for the Squires. Although he did not have the advantage of freshman basketball experience, Chris Lindsay sparked the squad with determined hustle throughout the season and led them in scoring.

Early in the season the determined Squires avenged a one point loss to Mt. Carmel from their freshman year by nipping them in a close joust. Buzz Ashenburg with 19 points and Pete Menihan with 15 led McQuaid's scoring attack. When Mt. Carmel visited Rochester, the Jayvees thrashed them by over 30 points. In high spirits after the first Mt. Carmel win, the Squires lost a close battle to the "Little Irish" Jayvees due to their poor percentage from the field and also from the charity stripe.

The whole team benefitted greatly this season from the expert coaching of Mr. Mancarella and is greatly indebted to him for the help and fine instruction they received.

Under the perceptive guidance and superb coaching of Mr. Janick, the freshman basketball team finished their season with a 17-0 record to become the first undefeated freshman team in McQuaid's history. The team set a freshman scoring record by defeating Brighton 82-23. The regulars included Lance Compa, Tony Leonardo, John Stanley, Bob Brady, Dick Deleguardia, Dan Wegman, and Mike Spiegel. With 178 points each, Lance Compa and John Stanley were high scorers on a team which had four men score over a 100 points. The Pages scored 1004 points against their opponents while holding the opposition to 514 points.

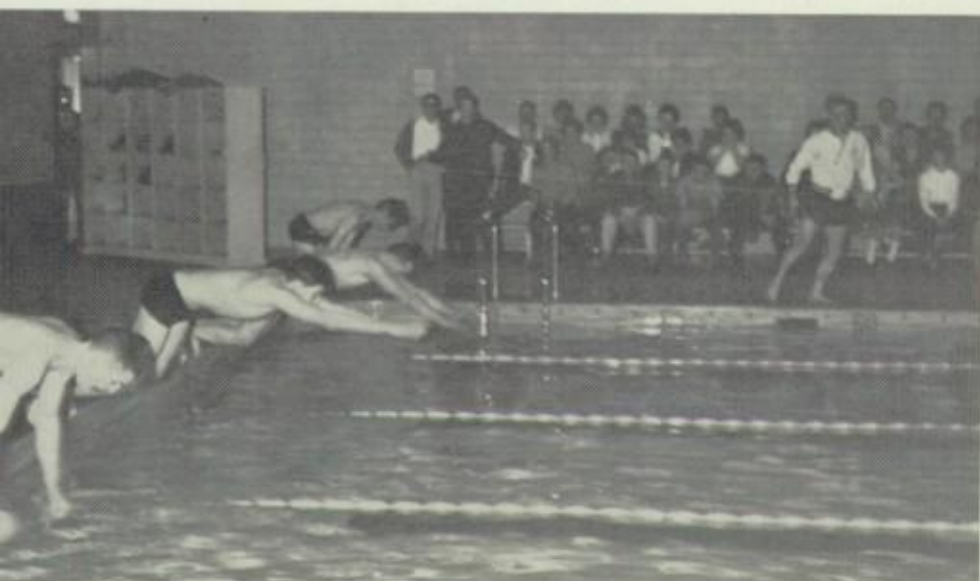

The climax of this spectacular season came when the frosh invaded the Community War Memorial to do battle with the Yearlings from Aquinas. With a sensational shooting exhibition from John Stanley and Lance Compa, strong rebounding from "Big" Tony Leonardo and Mike Spiegel, and a team whose members showed tremendous spirit, determination, and the will to work, the Pages scored an impressive victory over the Aquinas frosh, 56-50. John Stanley led all scorers with 21 points.

Although this freshman team had the will to work and the desire to strive for perfection, the credit for the undefeated season belongs to Mr. Janick, who taught each boy the basic basketball knowledge he needed and helped him develop his individual talents.

Cross Country

Many a citizen of Brighton must have looked twice at the sight of young men puffing their way from McQuaid to Cobbs Hill wearing gloves, sweat pants, winter jackets and ear muffs. This was no excursion of health fanatics, but rather the hard working harriers of the McQuaid cross-country team. They covered a lot of territory in these workouts—about four miles each day.

This hard work under the direction of Mr. Terry Foley, a champion in his own right at Fordham University, paid off with results that are not reflected in the season record of 1 and 7, plus two second places. A strong team was consolidated and showed steady improvement. The team leader was a sophomore of great promise, Mike Connor; he was followed closely by a Junior, Billy Hilbert, captain Dave Baldwin, Tom Harvey, a newcomer to long distance running, Dave Zimmer and Reggie Fleming. Two more sophomores, Steve Zeller and Frank Eismont, moved up from J.V. and proved themselves strong competitors. The team carried home the trophy from the Alfred Almond Invitational when Mike Connor placed third, Hilbert, fifth, Zimmer, sixth, Fleming, seventh, and Harvey, tenth. A school record fell when captain Dave Baldwin clipped 7.7 seconds off the old record for two miles by running it in 10:47.3.

The Freshmen, in their only two dual meets, both against Aquinas, came out on top both times. Running strong in the first clash were Dick Lenhard, second, Greg Sloan, fourth, Brian Dougherty, fifth, Phil Hanna, sixth, and Dave Foley, seventh. In the second encounter Dick Lenhard led the Frosh again with third place.

Track

Hopes for a championship track team were well in sight when track tryouts were called late in March. The turnout was good and what really looked favorable was the return of many Junior and Senior lettermen. This strong nucleus of experience provided Mr. Foley with a starting block from which to spring his 1962 track campaign. Among returning letterholders were Dave Baldwin, Larry Desmond, Ray Baxter, Tom Harvey, Mike Newcomb, Al Smith, and Mike Connor.

Since last year's team was primarily a young, inexperienced one, the 2-7 record doesn't really begin to indicate the hard work and accomplishments made by this young group. Some outstanding records attained last year were the 3:41.5 mile relay by Dietz, Aman, Newcomb, and McBride, the 2:06.9 half mile by Dave McBride, and the 5'10" high jump by Al Smith. The team's victories came early in the season. The second time out on the track the McQuaid cindermen defeated the swift Brockport team decisively and shortly after found Hilton easy prey.

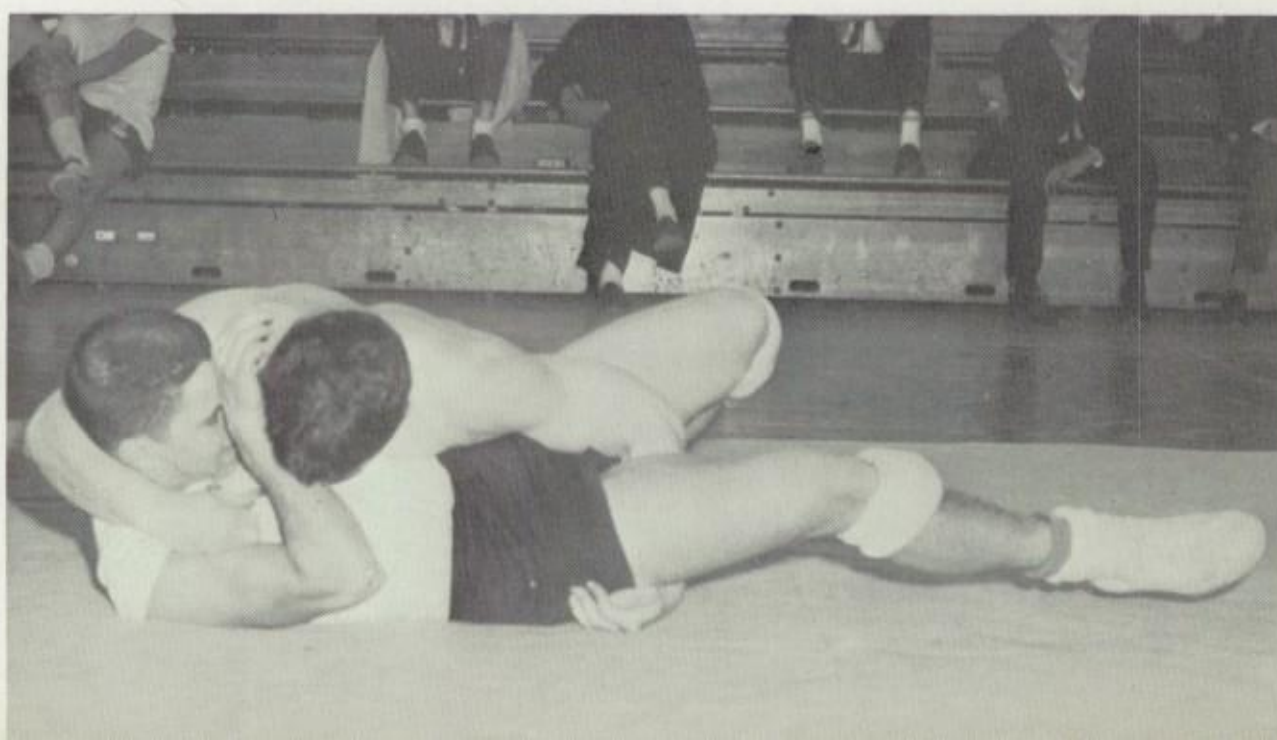

With the experience gained by the large number of returning runners and jumpers, the 1962 season should be a successful one.

We Are Prepared: To Go and Send Fire on the Earth

All their lives rounded in a backcountry brogue now to see, at crowd's edge, the fine Athenian profiles agape as bumpkins, scenting their delicate language like odor of muscatel or honey:

Peter and John, it is Babel crashing about your ears.
The Spirit, impatient of gross and exquisite tongues, of known and unknown gods, has riven the abominable tower with His descent. Now the undivided tongues are abroad, are a wildfire, front the twelve winds from these transfigured faces. Never again to be constrained by scarecrow gestures, by hem or haw. Forever to see agonized at the crowd's edge, the profiles emptied of guile, their human wisdom consumed in a stench of straw.

John Clapp, renowned professor of digression at the Sorbonne, has introduced pre-recorded lectures available for "those perky students who ask questions on matters covered twenty minutes ago." Dan McCarthy will finally tell us who was in his room one night during the retreat. Don McNamara will be head waiter at Waldorf's Astoria. Dave McEneany: He is still trying to be convinced that the Pope didn't cut the world in half. Joe Mancini will be the first person ever to swim the English Channel—continuously reading old daily announcements. Jim Martino will emcee a new T.V. program called "You Can't Prove It To Me." Lou Mercuri will be drafted to the Hyannisport touch-football team. Joe Pilato, the master of ten languages (?), is an interpreter for the U.N.; only no one seems to know what language he's interpreting. Dave Ripton will be Dr. Ripton—the author of that best-selling book: "How To Get Sick in 10 Easy Lessons." Tom Schlueter is a disc-jockey on WNUT Radio and is a news commentator of his own program "What'll I Think of Next." Jim Harrington will team with Mr. Janick to start a "Let's keep McQuaid corduroy" movement. Dave Larimer will dazzle the Harlem Globetrotters with his variation of the dribble twist. Larry Mooney will write a best seller entitled "Catcher in the Adirondacs." Dave Nelson will completely miss in college, only a 97% average. John Riley will get a job on a fishing sloop. The captain will give the position to him after only one rendition of "Hoist up the John B's sails." Jim Wawro will write a tremendous best seller entitled "Get Out!" Ned Sloan will be an excellent truant officer, knowing, as he does all the ins and outs of his trade. Al Wagner will be committed to an insane asylum, driven mad trying to outdo his own computer. Ron Zimmer, the friend of the Animal Kingdom, will be the curator at Seneca Park Zoo. Dan Walz will be drowned by the Cyclopes while trying to disprove the odyssey. Al Giusiana was thwarted in his attempt to get pictures of the other side of the moon; he forgot his flashbulbs. Jack Henry will start a new student organization—Argument and Contradiction, Inc. Dick Hadford will be the first wrestler to win a match by pounding his opponent with a tennis racket that he concealed in his trunks. Mike Wojick will be the first member of the Olympic Drinking Team to get stoned with one drink. Tom Harvey will wake up one night with his hands around his neck screaming, "No, Father Kleber, No!"

George "Canvasback" Jesian wrestles his pencil.

Class 4 D

In the twenty years since class 4-D graced the halls of McQuaid, to say the least, a lot has happened. We now focus the time machine upon the reunion of the class of 1962.

The tall fellow with the peacock on his nose is George Schell. Those bird imitations really paid off; he is now the keeper of the birds at Seneca Park Zoo. Speaking of birds, here's one that really flew the coop. Chris Rice has been A.W.O.L. from the Army for eighteen years. The G-Men finally nabbed him when he applied for unemployment benefits. They let him out for the reunion.

Popular music and literature have also fallen victim to 4-D talent. Mike Rock's first book, The Leadership and Integrity of U. S. Grant, was a total flop. However, his science fiction thriller, Tom Swift's Electrical Grandmother, is doing quite well. Not to be outdone, DO-IT-YOURSELF Krupnick is working on an exposition entitled, So You Want To Build A Swamp. Popular recording star, Gene Welch, received a golden record for his latest hit, "I'll Propose In Your Garage If You Won't Back Out." His next platter, "Thank God For The Invisible Shield," is expected to do equally as well.

In the world of sports there are several stars from 4-D. The man over there with the Prose and Poetry of England tattooed to the back of his head is William John Soehner. He is the star linebacker for the Dallas Duckers. Paul Winter recently attempted to swim the Barge Canal in an iron lung. Unfortunately, after getting half way, he decided that he couldn't make it, so he swam back to Buffalo. International playboy, Joe "Lucky" Julian, recently tried his hand at professional baseball. He didn't do too well, but he is still batting 1000 in the tomato league. Crinkley Crego pinned Doc Gallagher in two out of three falls. Doc says that he wants a rematch as soon as he gets out of the cast. Crinkley attributes his success to his manager Frank Malley. Of course, our most prominent man in the world of sports is Donald Robinson (ROBBY). Don now plays with the Globetrotters. He's the only man they've got who can dribble with his feet, and make a set shot from the bench (no hands of course).

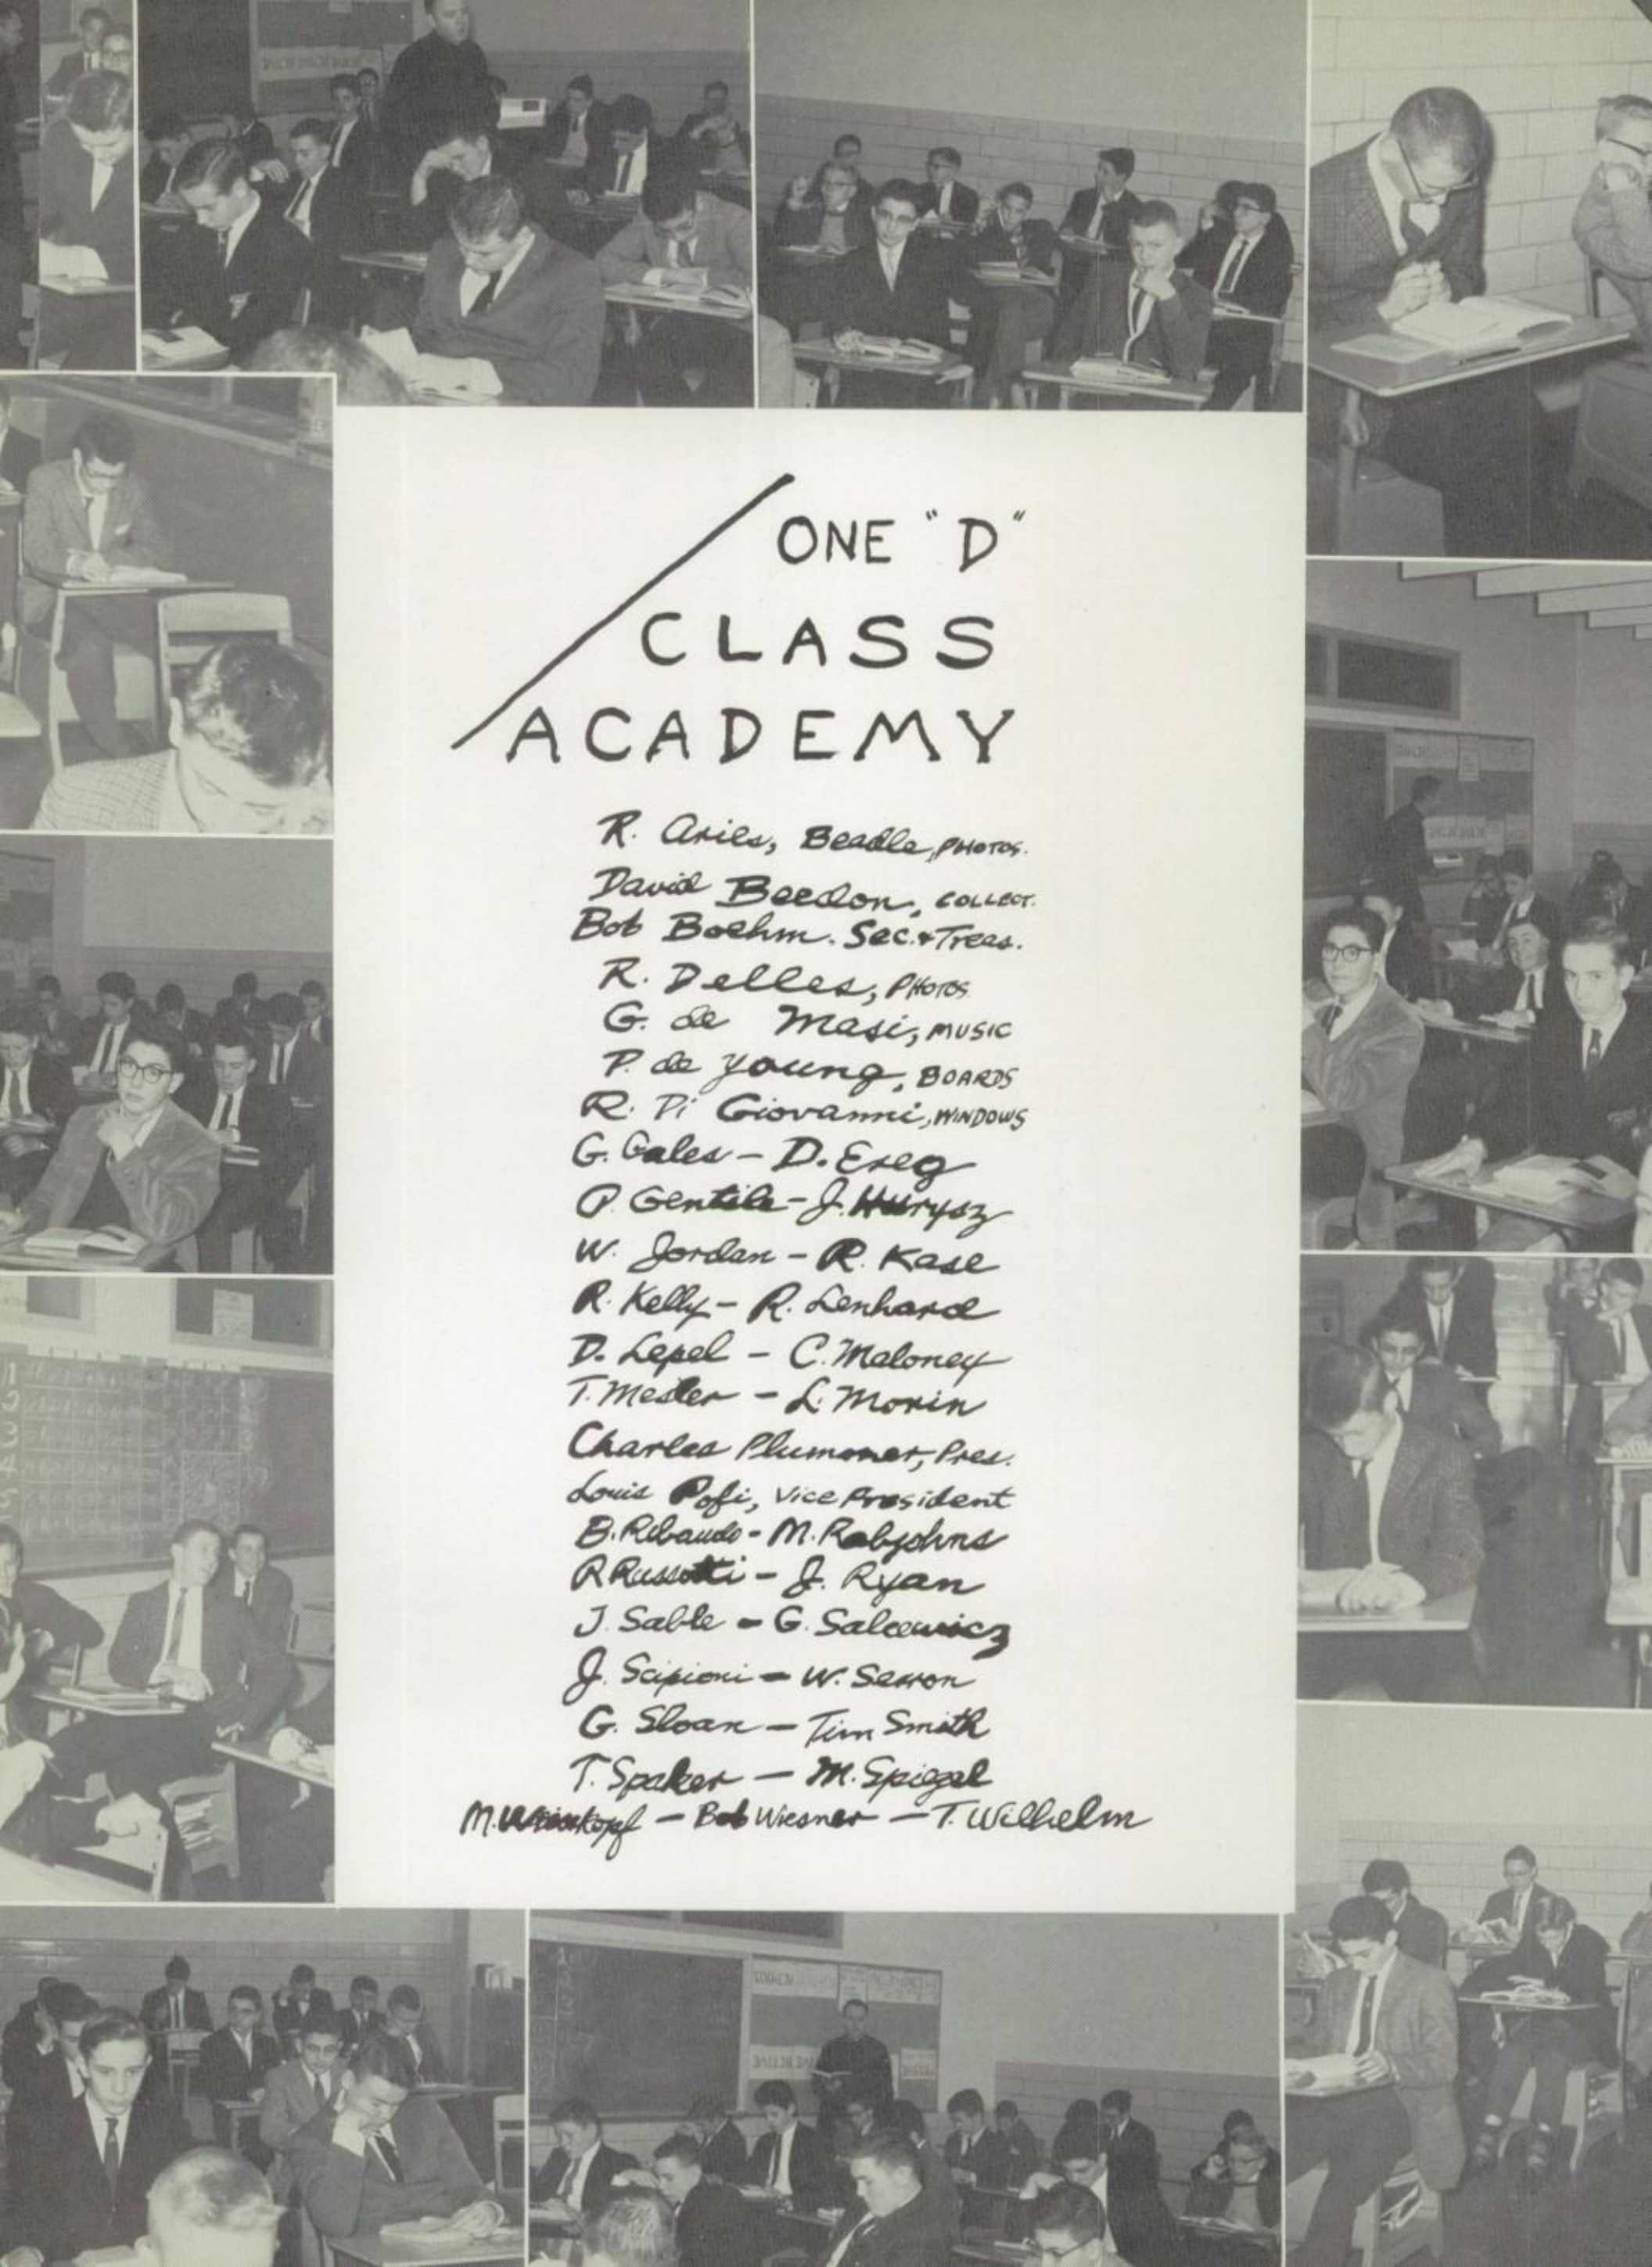

Turning to the world of business, we find Jim Magin has become the sole owner and manager of Tallo's Tavern. Jim said that he made the move when he discovered that he could support himself on what he spent there. The move was financed by the Dalton Loan Comany. Joe and Kathy Kelly have set up a marriage counselor bureau. I see that John Cicero brought his soap box along. His speeches on the condemnation of Virgil (and the rest of the world, past and present) are really inspiring. The Connolly Construction Company is grossing one million dollars a year. They specialize in fall-out shelters equipped with machine guns and a sign saying "NO NEIGHBORS."

Politics has also caught the fancy of several of the class. Sean Maloney was recently indicted for tampering with the ballot boxes in an attempt to turn Irondequoit Democratic for the first time in forty years. Joe Scanlon, unsuccessful in three tries in the gubernatorial election, says that next year he's running for the first bus back to his farm.

The ever-changing scientific world has immortalized Jerry West. Unfortunately, Jerry couldn't be here; he's circling the moon every ninety minutes. Dick Ambrose really had a tough time of it. He got caught in his home-made cyclotron and turned into a nuclear bullet. He's here some place. Last, but not least Tom German successfully escaped to Russia with the latest folder marked "CLASSIFIED." You can't really blame Tom; his grandfather sank the Maine.

Yes sir, 4-D certainly distinguished itself, and made its mark on this planet.

ANYONE'S "first job" is to get his basic education — and congratulations are due the boy or girl who gets this job done well.

Now, how about the next job?

Career opportunities in Rochester, with its many and diverse industries, businesses and professions, should interest almost any student. Most Rochester companies are recognized for their high standards and advanced technology. It follows that standards for employment are high, too — and a good education tops the list.

Now, here is an important angle to think about: an employer knows what kind of people he is looking for. The student ready for a career, therefore, ought to have an equally good idea of what he or she is looking for.

Talking with parents, counselors, friends, and with employers themselves will reveal what kinds of positions are available in what kind of industry, business or profession. How do education, experience, and personal characteristics measure up to a given employer's requirements and standards?

The correct answer is the key to anyone's career. There is no door it cannot unlock — when the key fits!
